Rita M. Amtower

Mrs. Rita Amtower is being honored upon retirement from her position as student health nurse at the college, where she nursed Potomac State students from 1984 to 1997. She had nursed others at Prince George's General Hospital and Potomac Valley Hospital and had been a developmental disabilities worker for Appalachian Mental Health before her long tenure at the college.

Many faculty members and students will remember Rita as a speaker on health-related topics in classes, such as Orientation I. Many others will remember her contributions to the college's Wellness Program.

Rita and her husband, Paul, have two married sons, Paul II and Bryan, and a daughter, Sue Ann. They also have two grandchildren, Christian and Jenna Amtower.

Rita and Paul enjoy many hobbies—golf, swimming, walking, going to the spa—in addition to their family.

Joseph M. Gratto

Dr. Joseph Gratto, professor of social sciences and former president of Potomac State College, traveled far and wide before arriving at the college in 1987. A college wrestling champion, he is to be inducted into the Lehigh University Athletic Hall of Fame this May. Besides holding down other wrestlers, he also holds degrees from four universities. He held considerable responsibilities as a faculty member and dean at DeVry Institute of Technology. Dr. Gratto also served as a Marine Corps officer from 1958 to 1979.

His partner through most of these adventures has been his wife, Barbara. The Grattos have two daughters, Katherine Revell, Miami, FL, and Susan Harrison, Sioux Falls, SD, and three granddaughters.

In the last ten years, Dr. Gratto has become a trustee of Davis and Elkins College, a member of Keyser Utility Board, a member of the Board of Directors of the Family Crisis Center, and a choir member at Trinity Lutheran Church.

With additional interests in reading, hiking, gardening and bridge, Dr. Gratto is sure to enjoy a rewarding, busy retirement.

M. Helen Jenkins

Mrs. Helen Jenkins is celebrating 25 years of working at Potomac State College. A graduate of the college, Helen worked in the Bookkeeping Department of the First National Bank of Piedmont before returning to the college as an employee.

Helen and her husband, Terry, have two sons. Jeffrey, the older, works at Westvaco, as does his dad. Joshua is a student at Potomac State.

Mrs. Jenkins will be long remembered as the college's cashier. Recently, she has moved across the hall to the Financial Aid Office.

When she is not at work, Helen exercises, swims, walks, reads and shops.
